Internet Information Site and eStore

Our new web site, www.icplit.org, is online and being updated daily. We will use it to help keep the churches and individuals informed about God's blessings upon the ministry of helping the children come to Jesus. The new store site should be available soon. It will contain a listing of all Character Code for Life (for preschool through sixth grade children), God's Character and Me (for teens and emerging adults), all five-lesson studies (for VBS and other uses), and the books published by ICP, including those written by Dr. David Harris and Dr. David Proctor. Thank you for your patience with us in getting these sites up and running. Your suggestions about improvements will be appreciated.

Myanmar

We deeply appreciate your prayers and offerings for Priscilla as she has been through surgery for kidney stones and is waiting for surgery for ovarian cyst. Your offerings and prayers for Priscilla and Jacob are deeply appreciated.

The four-month Missionary Training School, under the leadership of Jacob Tubal will open again in November with about fifty students. Many of these students will start churches throughout the country of Myanmar as they return home from the school.

The ICP/Hope Children's Home director, Junia, reports that the civil war is still in crisis state. Many young people are being conscripted into military service, while unemployment, food shortages and increasing crime brings great hardship to many church members and their families. Despite all these hardships, God has blessed with the establishment of a kindergarten through high school on the campus of the children's home. The school offers a good education as well as the opportunity for instilling the gospel in the hearts of the residents of the Children's Home as well as the children of the community. The school has a total of 167 students.

ICP co-workers, Moses Wanjala and Titus Matete have focused their work during September on literature for the children of Kenya, South Sudan, Uganda and Tanzania. As churches learn of the availability of the literature, the need continually increases. God is generous in providing funds through the churches and individuals who support the ministry. We continue to pray that our church partners in the ABA will continue to increase their support for this expanding ministry. Funds have been provided to print books for at least 10,000 additional children in these four countries.

Rita and I are planning a trip there for January. We hope to visit several areas to rejoice with Moses and Titus as we see the fruit of their labors. We also hope to complete the registration of the ministry with the government of Kenya. This will enable us to ship machines to build a more productive print shop, greatly expanding the outreach to the children of East Africa. —Bro. Bill

While the printing press is down, awaiting a new electronic circuit board from the USA, Florence, Nick and Steven have been visiting among churches in the area to learn their need for children's Bible study materials. They are also repairing the well house, which was damaged by the recent monsoon rain. At the request of his wife, Maricel, Florence is finalizing plans for a small two-bedroom house to become the Project Director's residence with the workers there doing the construction. The project will be completed at minimum cost.

Two containers are being shipped to the Philippines this year; the first one filled with literature, backpacks, a folding machine and a book binding machine and other supplies will go to Manila. The second will go to General Santos City on the southern tip of Mindanao. It will contain VBS and Character Code literature for the churches there. We are praying that this will become an expansion of ICP efforts to supply Bible study literature for all the churches of the Philippines.

As promised in our last newsletter, we have several more pictures from the ten churches of the Spring River and Macedonia Associations of Arkansas who helped fill over 800 backpacks to be sent to the Philippines on the containers soon to be shipped.

It has been a blessing to attend two local associations (those mentioned above), as well as the Friendship Association which met at Bethlehem MBC, near Star City, AR.

Finally, this month I was blessed to attend one day of the Fall Session of the Missionary Training Ministry at Flatwoods MBC, Mountain View, AR. It is thrilling to see how this ministry has grown since 2008 when Brother Joe Morell and I first shared our vision for this ministry. Under the leadership of Brother Morell, and now Brother Chase Reynolds, many students have received their Associates Degree in Missions from the Missionary Baptist Seminary, Little Rock, Arkansas, over the past 12 years. —Bro.
